6 Personal data retention

Personal data relating to candidates are retained as long as it is necessary for the purposes for which they are processed, as set out in section 3, or as required by law or a contract for which the candidate is subject to. After the recruitment process, candidates’ personal data is retained as long as the candidate has the right to challenge or take legal action for not being selected, which is 12 months.

With candidate’s consent to be contacted after the recruitment case is closed, candidate’s personal data is retained totally for the period of 12 months. The candidate can any time cancel his/her consent by informing about the cancellation to e-mail address gdpr@kemppei.com. It is to noted that when the candidate cancels her/his consent, we remove the personal data and cannot later contact the candidate.

7 Data processors

Kemppei Group employees, who are committed to confidentiality, may process personal data in accordance with EU data protection legislation. The data controller shall ensure that only persons authorised to process and persons for whom the processing of personal data is strictly necessary in order to carry out their tasks, will have access to personal data relating to candidates. Other employees of the data controller shall not have access to personal data relating to candidates.

The processing of personal data is also partly outsourced to service providers, which act as data processors according to applicable EU data protection legislation. For instance, a recruitment service provider may search for or evaluate candidates. The data controller ensures, by way of binding contractual arrangements, that where the processing of personal data is to be carried out by a service provider, such service provider shall implement appropriate technical and organisational measures in such manner that the processing will meet the requirements of EU data protection legislation and ensures the protection of the rights of candidates.

8 International data transfers

If the candidate leaves an application to be selected for a position at Kemppei Group within the EU or the EEA region, candidate’s personal data is not transferred outside the EU or the EEA.

If the candidate leaves an application to be selected for a position at Kemppei Group in Russia, China, India or Australia, candidate’s personal data is transferred inside Kemppei Group to the selected country outside the EU and the EEA. The justification for transfer is candidate's consent. The candidate may cancel his/her consent anytime by sending a removal request to gdpr@kemppi.com.

EU Commission has not approved Russia, China, India or Australia as providing adequate protection for data subjects rights. As a candidate, please note that these third countries may not have data protection laws as comprehensive or protective as those provided in the member states of the EU or the EEA. Due to the risk in data protection, it is recommended to remove all high level risk data, such as personal id, from the application.

Employees' data transfers outside EU or EEA are protected by safeguarding based on European Commission's standard contractual clauses for data transfers and Kemppi Group's own risk assessment of protection and technical and organisational measures in order to ensure the adequate level of protection for the transfers of personal data.
